LETTER FROM THE GENERAL MANAGER

Happy New Year Eaglebrooke!

Thank you to all of our members who attended our 4th Annual Holiday Party & Sale on December 11th. We had an incredible turnout, and the Pro Shop sale was a tremendous success, with nearly a 25% increase in revenue. It was wonderful to see so many of you enjoying the food, fireworks, axe throwing, glow golf, music, decorations, and drinks! My team is already excited to begin planning a similar type of party for the summertime.

In addition to the member party, our team enjoyed a well-deserved celebration. Due to the impact of Hurricane Milton, we had to relocate our venue to 1916, which did a fantastic job hosting nearly 80 team members and their spouses. It was a great evening to celebrate the hard work and dedication of our staff.

Looking ahead, my team will be heading to Orlando in the coming weeks to attend the PGA Merchandise Show. We're excited to explore the latest and greatest innovations in the golf industry and test out golf simulators in preparation for the summer greens renovation.

As we move into Florida's busy golf season, we anticipate beautiful weather and excellent course conditions. To ensure you secure your desired tee times, please make use of your advanced booking privileges. We're looking forward to another fantastic year at Eaglebrooke and can't wait to see you on the course!

CULINARY NEWS

Happy New Year, Eaglebrooke!

The feedback on our new menu items has been fantastic! Some of the top sellers include the 1905 Salad, the Brisket Grilled Cheese Sandwich, and the Hot Honey Chicken Sandwich. If you haven't tried them yet, stop by and give one a taste!

November and December turned out to be two of the top three highest Food & Beverage revenue months in the club's history. A big thank you to everyone who contributed to this success and continues to push the club forward! While January is traditionally a slower month for the F&B team, we're on track to meet our goals and surpass January 2023.

We're already working on exciting new menu items for the next menu, set to launch this spring. Please continue to share your ideas and feedback—we're always looking for ways to enhance your dining experience at the Club.

LETTER FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT

Welcome to the New Year 2025! This will be an exciting year for the club as we have numerous renovations and upgrades planned for the summer. I'm eager to get things underway as we fine-tune the details of the greens renovation and our list of in-house projects. My goal is to ensure we're ready for any challenges that come our way.

January is typically a slower time for golf course maintenance. We've reduced mowing frequencies, cutting tees, collars, and fairways just once a week and rough mowing to almost once per month. However, greens continue to be either mowed or rolled daily. These adjustments free up labor, allowing us to focus more on bunkers, landscape beds, and other course details. Significant progress has been made on repairing bunkers throughout the course, and this work will continue until our closure in April. Additionally, we're working on cleaning up landscape beds and trimming back the wood lines along the edges of the property.

From an agronomic perspective, the winter months are relatively slow as well. We're applying pre-emergent herbicide around tee and green slopes to get ahead of the winter weed outbreak. The two primary weed types this time of year are annual poa and various broadleaf weeds. Poa can be challenging to control, so using a pre-emergent to prevent its growth is the best approach. Broadleaf weeds like dandelion and cudweed are easier to manage and can be sprayed once they've sprouted. We've made great progress reducing weed pressure and will remain vigilant to keep the course in top condition.

I hope everyone has a fantastic start to the New Year, and I look forward to seeing you on the course!

Wes Parker

LETTER FROM THE MEN'S GOLF ASSOCIATION

Hope your New Year's resolutions included joining the MGA if you're not already a member! 2024 was truly one for the record books in terms of attendance and tournament purses.

We held our inaugural MGA Cup on December 7th, and it was a fantastic success. The winning team of Reggie Alford, Luke Holbrook, and Jeff Johnson took first place with an impressive gross score of 59, each earning a grand sum of $860.00. There was a tie for second place with a gross score of 63. The teams were Brad Johnson, Hank Bolding, and Paul Rouleau, along with John Siddle, Darryl Gilliam, and Tom Seagraves.

Beyond the cash prizes, the MGA distributed over $2,000.00 in raffle prizes. A special mention goes to the team that finished last, proudly earning the prestigious Toilet Bowl Trophies: Albert Sagnella, Chris Dellapa, and Dave Warta. Albert Sagnella didn't leave empty-handed, though, as he won the 50/50 drawing for $900.00 and received an autographed Eaglebrooke flag signed by Justin Thompson, generously donated by our GM, Ryan Roberts.

Looking ahead, your MGA Board is committed to making the 2025 season even better. While the course will close temporarily for renovations, we've adjusted our schedule to include six events instead of the usual eight. Of course, we'll wrap up the year with the MGA Cup on December 13th. A full schedule of events is available in the Pro Shop. We'll continue our tradition of providing coffee, donuts, swag bags, golf balls, and a 50/50 drawing at each tournament. Please ensure you sign up for events before the cutoff dates, as late entries cannot be accommodated.

As always, we greatly appreciate your membership, and the MGA Board is here to serve you. Don't hesitate to reach out with any questions, concerns, or even accolades!

FROM THE YOGA STUDIO

With 2025 upon us, we might be questioning the value of making those New Year resolutions once again. Why bother if year after year we abandon them in just a few weeks only to return to our old behavior. Why put ourselves through all that hassle?

First let's consider our approach to making a list of resolutions. In the month of December we might have made Christmas lists that included everything that we love. These lists are full of what we dream of experiencing or having. Now in January, we typically take a very different view. We start with everything that we don't like about ourself, our body, our job, and even our relationships and decide that we need to make radical improvements.

Can you see where we might be going astray? What if we wrote out New Year resolutions as a way to inspire us? Rather than setting goals that focus on all the things that we hate about ourselves our or lives, we could tune into what we really value. For instance, I find that we are much more successful at achieving fitness if we decide to do something that we enjoy several times a week, like yoga, golf or walking, and carve time out of our busy schedule to do just that. Another example is rather than saying I won't eat this, we could think of our favorite healthy foods and build a new menu based on those. If we want less stress, we might choose to meditate 15 minutes in the morning as opposed to saying we'll watch less TV.

In yoga, it is said that success comes with an enthusiastic dedicated practice over time.

We see here that this is a process approach to achievement and it depends on our attitude. I remember wanting to start running when I was in high school. I asked my friend who was captain of the track team how fast my pace should be. He suggested instead that I choose a time and run my best. If it was too much, he said to walk intermittently as needed. Mostly, he suggested that I have fun and not be competitive. This introduction started a long love affair for me with running. Years later I took a similar approach to my headstand. With a joyful practice, one minute grew into another and next thing I knew a ten minute headstand became a reality.

We can move towards our goals with pleasure if we find the paths that are right for us and we are not impatient for a certain outcome. Who knows? We might discover something new about ourselves. But we have to take tangible steps consistently and remember that other word...enthusiastically!

May your 2025 be happy, healthy and fun. Remember that your Eaglebrooke membership includes yoga classes every day of the week for you here at Satya Life Yoga. You can attend in person, as well as the option of zoom, and a 24 hour streaming yoga video with me that changes daily. For a full schedule of our classes go to satyalife.com.

Here is a photo of a student Jenni in my Monday evening Yoga Basics class. After exploring "Warrior II" as a deeper stretch seated in the chair, we returned to the classical version of the pose standing.

An electronic fence does not mean your Pet may be left outside unattended. Please also be courteous of your neighbors and pick up any feces that may have been left on other’s lawns and/or common areas.

Looking forward to a wonderful 2025! “Year’s end is neither an end nor a beginning but a going on, with all the wisdom that experience can instill in us.” – Hal Borland
